April 6, 2010

Dear Friends Select Families and Community Members,

We want to once again invite you to join us at the Arch Street Friends Meeting House (4th & Arch Street), this time for the inauguration of our series of discussions called Quaker Quest.

Over the course of Six Tuesday evenings in April and May, beginning April 6th, we hope to present another way of looking at Quakerism through this series of presentations and open discussions from the life and faith perspective of very different individual Quakers.

Each evening we will focus on a different themed topic to present, and we will begin each evening at 5:30 pm with a half hour reception and light meal. The program begins at 6:00 and finishes at 8:00 pm followed by coffee and homemade desserts.

Childcare will be available upstairs in the meetinghouse and there is plenty of free parking in the lot entering from Fourth Street.

You should also know that Quaker Quest is open to everyone and is available to attend at three other meetinghouses in the region on different days of the week: at Haverford Friends, Abington Friends and Media Friends. Go to: phillyquakerquest.org for the complete schedule of dates, topics and program, and locations.

We are proud of our longstanding association with FSS and always value each opportunity to share and engage our communities.

We hope you will attend.

With Warm Regards,

Members of the Arch Street Friends Meeting and the Quaker Quest Working Group
